This chart is based off a few things.

1. This is based off 15 mile hiking days.
2. Trail towns that are within 1.0 miles from AT trail heads (highlighted in yellow).
3. How many days to the next town that is within 1.0 miles from the AT.
4. I tried to keep it so that only five days' worth of food or less would need to be carried but this was not always possible.

I did add additional options (highlighted in orange) for other trail towns that could be resupplied from that were more than 1.0 miles from the AT. Notes for this are in the last column estimating how many more days to that next trail town based off the last town that was within 1.0 miles from the AT.
